Trumps Latest U-Turn

US President Donald Trump committed his latest U-turn on the side-lines of the G20 summit in Osaka, Japan. After weeks of pressure upon China regarding sanctions on the trade that is left to sanction Trump agreed to hold off on imposing new tariffs on the remaining $300 billion in Chinese exports to the US as negotiations resumed. China also agreed to increase purchases of US agricultural goods, What was not expected was that Trump said U.S. companies can resume exporting to Chinese telecommunications giants like Huawei, "as long as the sales did not involve equipment that threatened US national security," after Xi reportedly made such a concession a precondition for resuming talks. As China is America's main import destination US companies at now being hit by the sanctions and reports continue to trickle out on US domestic companies supply line disruptions. Despite all the rhetoric of America first it would seem pragmatism and the rich come first for Trump.

The Treachery in Bahrain

After two days of panels, speeches, and meetings, the US-led "Peace to Prosperity" conference in Manama, Bahrain, wound down on Wednesday evening. The widely-anticipated and hotly-contested "economic workshop" for Zionist-Palestinian peace featured the first unveiling of Jared Kushner's plans for Palestinians. His proposal? Investing upwards of $50 billion in the Palestinian territories and neighbouring Arab states over the course of 10 years, the creation of more than 1 million Palestinian jobs, and slashing the unemployment rates in Gaza and the West Bank. In a statement after the conference Kushner said "the Bahrain conference shows that the Middle East problem can be solved economically." The deal of the century which through the number of leaks that have taken place plans to give 88% of historic Palestine to the Zionists, this conference aims to create the atmosphere for this final solution and treachery to the indigenous Muslims. This conference is clear now to all, it was the bribe for the surrounding rulers to accept the final solution.

Arab Monarchs Moving Closer with the Jewish entity

The head of the Jewish entity's spy agency Mossad announced the occupying regime is renewing ties with Oman, adding that a representative office of the Jewish entity's foreign ministry will open in the Persian Gulf, as Tel Aviv and Arab monarchies move to bring their clandestine ties to light. Speaking at the Herzliya Conference, Yossi Cohen said "Just recently, renewal of formal relations with Oman was declared and the establishment of a representative office of the foreign ministry in that country. That is only the visible tip of a much broader secret effort," he added. In an unprecedented move, a handful of 'Israeli' journalists, hand-picked by the White House, travelled to Bahrain last week to attend the US-led conference. The conference was boycotted by the Palestinians. Critics say Washington is offering financial rewards for Palestinians to accept the Jewish entity's occupation. Following the event, Bahrain openly said that it wants "peace" and "better" relations with the occupying entity.
