

Refugees Burnt Alive in Their Beds: Is There No Crime to Heinous for those who Support the Mercenary Jewish Entity?

News:

More than 12 hours after most people in the Muslim world watched the horrific scene of at least one Palestinian burning alive where he had been sleeping at Gaza's al-Aqsa hospital, CNN had no mention of the event on its page titled: "Israel and the Israel-Hamas war".

Comment:

CNN did have 15 stories on that page, only one of which headlined Palestinian casualties: "Palestinians evacuating northern Gaza say they are being shot at by Israeli military". The rest of the stories are centered around the Jewish entity and its difficulties. Even the title of the page diminishes the victims of the war. It is first 'Israel' and then the so-called 'Israel-Hamas war', which is nothing but a bloody slaughter and open campaign to erase large parts of Gaza from the map. Instead, there were stories about the October 7 attacks with Trump vowing to "remove the Jew haters if reelected." Last year, false stories of Jewish babies being burned and beheaded sparked outrage, but today with video footage of people burning alive in their beds, much of the Western media was not interested.

Few in the Western media thought the story was worth reporting, but The Washington Post did report the story of this morning's horror: "Israeli strike at Gaza's al-Aqsa Hospital burns tents, killing at least 4". The Washington Post reported the head of al-Aqsa hospital's emergency department as saying: "Most of those who survived have severe burns, but they will die after a while because their burns are massive and deep."

This day also saw the news of slaughter in other parts of the Gaza strip and in Lebanon, as per usual. This day's news also follows the news of a successful drone attack on a military base of the Jewish entity which killed 4 and wounded dozens of others according to what was reported, and the US proudly announced that it will further bolster its support for the entity by deploying the THAAD anti-missile system to intercept Iranian rockets. So not only is the US and its Western allies sending offensive military equipment, but it is seeking to make the Jewish entity feel secure from any reprisal against it.

The US has claimed from the beginning that it seeks peace in the region, but instead it is strengthening and emboldening the Jewish State to commit more crimes with impunity. Whatever it is that the US wants from this, it is not peace, and those feeble politicians and military leaders in the Muslim world who look to the US and trust its intentions are supporting the treacherous regimes that openly conspire with the US against Islam and the Muslims. As the world of Islam burns because of their cowardice, they weep tears that will not nourish.

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اصْبِرُوا وَصَابِرُوا وَرَابِطُوا وَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ لَعَلَّكُمْ تُفْلِحُونَ﴾

"O believers! Patiently endure, persevere, stand on guard, and be mindful of Allah, so you may be successful." [TMQ 3:200]
