

The Danish Foreign Minister Feigns Concern for Palestine, While His Hands Are Drenched in the Blood of Gaza's Innocents

News:

07-09-2025, the Danish Foreign Minister, Lars Løkke Rasmussen, traveled to occupied Palestine to meet with his Zionist friends and colleagues to “express concerns” and “apply pressure” on the Zionist occupational government. This friendly visit to the Zionist occupation comes only a few days after the Foreign Minister published a video on social media, in which he commented that “the Danish Government is now taking steps to remove Israel’s veto on our stance [regarding future recognition of Palestine]”.

Comment:

After 700 days of a live-streamed genocide, ruthless massacres on women and children, and collective starvation, for which the state of Denmark continues to provide military equipment, and has offered unwavering support, Lars Løkke Rasmussen travels to Tel Aviv to remark: “I consider myself – and Denmark – a friend of ‘Israel.’ But a concerned friend.”

After the Danish government has launched unprecedented crackdowns on voices calling for the liberation of Palestine, pressuring the judicial authorities to raise terror-related charges against tens of citizens and dole out harsh sentences for expressions of support for the rightful people of Palestine, while the very Foreign Ministry of Lars Løkke Rasmussen, continues to approve export of military equipment to the Zionists – he is now, all of a sudden, “concerned”.

After running political campaigns aiming to equal anti-Zionism with antisemitism and viciously attacking any claims of Zionist influence on Danish politicians, the government now admits that its stance on the issue of Palestine has hitherto been defined, not in Copenhagen, but in the heart of the Zionist occupation.

There are, however, good reasons for the Danish Government to be concerned. But its concern was never for Palestine. As events unfold and public outrage over the continued Danish support for the genocide in Gaza continues to mount – panic is rising within the crisis-ridden government, while upcoming elections are getting ever closer. Across the European continent, political leaders now queue at the political sink in cheap attempts to wash their hands of Gazan blood.

No decent, sane person would give the slightest credence to empty words of “concern” coming from genocide-supporters, who even have the audacity to dictate – in the same breath – to the Muslims of Palestine conditions for a future without genocide!

The heroic Muslims of the Blessed Land need no concern or recognition from the likes of the Lars Løkke Rasmussen. Along with his colleagues in the Danish Government, he will forever be remembered as corrupt criminal, whose only true concern is for his career and personal legacy, which is irredeemably drenched in the blood of Gaza's innocents.

Only when a Muslim army mobilizes from the countries surrounding Palestine and brings an end to the evil Zionist entity, will Palestine be liberated. And only when joined with the rest of the Muslim lands in unity under an Islamic leadership in a Khilafah Rashidah (rightly guided Caliphate), will it ever truly be free.
