7th July 2017: Germany hosts 'difficult' G20 talks on trade, climate

Talks on global trade at the Group of 20 summit proved very difficult and differences on climate change also were clear, German Chancellor Angela Merkel said Friday, as police and protesters clashed throughout the day in the summit's host city of Hamburg. (Source: The Associated Press)

G6, G7, G8, G20 are the list of the many groups that exist today. The leaders of few countries come together inventing the system of global policymaking for many years but they have not managed to solve the world's economical, environmental, social and political problems. G20 fails to break with the tired, broken free-market policies that brought devastation to the world.

The members of the G20 in the group can't agree on the trade and the climate issues, so to expect the solution for the world is merely just a daydream. The violent riot and peaceful protest in Hamburg by the Socialist and anti-capitalist groups showed the anger of the people and the unfairness of the system.

Following the collapsed of Ottoman Empire in 1924 and the replacement of Islamic System which has ruled the world over 1400 years, the Capitalist system which direly survived less than a century ago has proven that it can't be sustained and that it is unable to provide solutions and justice to the world. Day to day, year by year, the capitalist have been worsening the situation and widening the gaps.

From the beginning, the capitalist countries continuously were fighting for the sake of their own benefit through war, colonisation and the use of the world's organisations, such as the UN, NATO, Trade Pact, International Forum as a proxy to justify their actions and to define policies to gain and control the monopoly.

The Capitalist System has failed. Each of these countries now started to show their true colours; being selfish to protect their own self benefit rather than working together to "solve" the world issue and to "share" the wealth as they suppose and agreed to do. Every country neglected to agree for the common. Every state shows its power over the others. The G20 members collectively agreed that the Islamic groups are terrorists but not the Myanmar's Buddhist, Hindus group and Zionist who killed the Muslims. The double standard towards Islam continues as opposed to the secular system which majorities of this countries hold.

While Islamic Law, the Shariah law, has proven to the world that it can be sustained over centuries. It brought up justice to the people regardless to any nations, for any races and to all humankind Provide prosperity, growth, fairly wealth distribution, peace to the world, political stability and enlightened society. The System of Islam is for the many while the Capitalist is for the tiny G20s. This as what Allah has said in the Quran.

﴿وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا رَحْمَةً لِّلْعَالَمِينَ﴾

"We did not send you but as a mercy to all the nations." [Al-Anbiya 21:107]
