O People of Sudan, Stop the American Trio that is Deeply Involved in Crime:
War, Darfur Separation, and Normalization with the Jewish Entity
(Translated)

Everyone is wondering about the secret behind this acceleration in the army's military operations recently, as the battles had previously, and for more than a year, been taking place in a closed circle, with advances and retreats, without there being a military decision from any side.

To answer that, we say the following:

First: The army began to end the policy of strategic patience and long-termism, without causing a major imbalance in the military balance. Since the beginning of the war, it was able to decide and did not do so.

Second: The Rapid Support Forces are suffering losses in Al-Jazeera and Khartoum, but they are withdrawing towards Darfur, where they control four states, while the army is opening corridors for them towards Darfur, instead of forcing them to surrender. This also confirms that things are being managed in some way, and that behind this action are parties that manage the scene in their favor.

There is no doubt that this leads to the actual division of the country! The Rapid Support Forces control all of Darfur except Al-Fasher, and they are now mobilizing after withdrawing from central Sudan, and heading towards Darfur.

All of this coincides with Trump's arrival to the White House, which is taking a new approach; he wants the war in Sudan to end with the army controlling central, northern, and eastern Sudan, leaving the Darfur region in the west to the Rapid Support Forces. This means that with this policy, he wants to push the government to normalize relations with the Jewish entity. This normalization began with Burhan during his previous presidency. What confirms this is what the Sudanese Foreign Minister, Ali Youssef, revealed about the existence of a vision and programs to review American policy in Sudan after the new administration takes office. (Al-Sharq Newspaper, 1/23/2025) Then there was a meeting between the US Secretary of State, Marco Rubio, and the Egyptian Minister of foreign affairs, who discussed developments in Sudan, where they stressed the need to pressure the conflicting parties to end hostilities and expand the scope of humanitarian aid (Sudan News, 1/25/2025). Therefore, it is completely clear that Trump wants Sudan to normalize relations with the Jewish entity, and he wants Darfur to be separated as South Sudan was separated, and this sinful war is the third of the criminal trilogy that America ignited to destroy the framework agreement and remove Europe's agents from the political scene in Sudan.

Everyone must work to stop this American chaos in our country, and be aware of this crime. The country should have one army, directing its weapons against the enemy; the infidel colonizers, and in that lies victory and salvation in this world and success in the hereafter.
